

our nation. It also brings news of the world and the news of the masses to us. It tells us the general opinions of the public through reader's columns, articles and suggestions. Press enjoys great powers in the society. Press comments and criticises the laws and working of the government's affairs. Press educates the people's minds on legal, educational, historical, economic, political and social topics. It makes democracy a true success by rightly directing the public.
